PRESENT GOVERNMENT OF GERMANY HINGES ON THE SOVIET CONGRESS ACTION

Paris, April 8.—This is "Der Tag" on which the future of Germany may be decided.

Advices from German and neutral sources indicate the question of whether Germany is to continue its present form of government or embrace bolshevism hinges largely on the action of the soviet congress which opens in Berlin today.

The Scheidemann ministry has granted further concessions to the radicals, but is represented as determined to resist with all the force at its disposal any further political encroachment on its powers.

While announcing normal acceptance of the plan for establishment of a national soviet as the third branch of the plan for establishment of a national soviet as the third branch of the legislative department, the government was completing its preparations under War Minister Noske, for meeting force with force. Every military precaution, according to the latest dispatches has been taken both in Berlin and Weimar.

The Spartacists while laying plans early last month for a third revolution, were divided as to whether the uprising should be staged the first week in April or should be deferred until after the soviet congress today when it was expected the less extreme radicals among the workers would be brought to the proper frame of mind for joining the revolt. Since that time certain developments have had their influence on the Spartacists' schemes. The general strike, now spreading to all parts of the country, was seized upon as the means for decentralizing the governments' military precautions. As a result the Spartacists revolt, instead of breaking out simultaneously throughout Germany, has developed slowly in scattered uprisings in widely scattered communities.

Spartacist leaders, according to the best available information, hope through the influence of their agents in today's meeting to inflame the workers and weld all factions into a single campaign for the overthrow of President Ebert and Chancellor Scheidemann.

The government apparently has assumed an attitude of "hands off" toward the soviet congress, until political incendiaries actually develop—if it does develop—and then Noske will strike, quickly and with every force at his command.

The situation in Bavaria is regarded as having no little influence on developments in the other parts of Germany. Apparent success of the new soviet revolution in Munich is expected to hearten the Spartacists and probably less courageously, though today ably win them many recruits from the less courageously, though equally dissatisfied persons in Germany.

Intimation has been received of rumors of a counter-revolution in Hungary and dispatches from Budapest, filed yesterday mention no unusual developments. The dispatches further describe a conference between General Smuts and Foreign Minister Bela Kun who was supposed to have been assassinated in the overthrow of government.

Hungary, it would seem, is thus left to conduct its communist propaganda, so successful in Bavaria, and which is now expected to be directed strongly at other German states, as it is being done in Austria.

PROF. WM. McPHERSON VISITOR IN XENIA

Professor William McPherson of Ohio State University, who was recently discharged from the army, after spending more than two years in the chemical service, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, spent Sunday in this city, with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McPherson.

Prof. McPherson was located in Washington and Baltimore while in the service, but two months before the armistice was signed he was sent overseas to attend some important conferences regarding the poison gases. When the war came to a halt, he was recalled, and took a part in the conferences which were held in the east in regard to the disposition of the large amount of poison gases on hand in this country and abroad.

He was discharged and returned to Columbus to resume his teaching work two weeks ago, but his wife and son and daughter will remain in Baltimore until the close of the school term.

GERMAN BOAT CARRIES YANKS ON SIGHTSEEING TOUR ON RHINE

U. S. soldiers with army of occupation seeing Rhine from deck of German boat Borussia of Cologne.

Life isn't simply one round of drill, guard duty and sleep for the American boys on the Rhine. The officers commanding the army of occupation take advantage of every opportunity to entertain the boys.

The lads above are being given a sightseeing trip along the famous river. It must grieve the Germans to see their own boats being called into service to carry the U. S. troops.

SPLENDID DISPLAY OF MONUMENTAL ART AT THE DODDS PLANT

It has been said that one must leave home to find out about one's own home town.

This may be said of Xenia, in the midst of which there is a plant of the largest monumental manufacturing and distribution company in the country, operating to its fullest capacity, and turning out work which for cleverness of design and skill of execution, vies with the finest output of Italian cutters.

Many people are being introduced to the plant of Geo. Dodds & Son, Granite and Marble works this week, when the company is having its annual "Exhibit Week" and introducing to the trade the finished work of the winter in new designs and original workmanship. There is much work finished during the winter, which is on display in the show room of the local plant in the spring before it is taken away to be set, and it is to give the public the benefit of this exhibition of the newest in monumental art that the doors of the local plant are thrown open this week. Monday, the opening day, there were visitors already from the nearby cities who were courteously shown through the big plant.

To the uninitiated it is difficult to imagine the skill required in forming the clever, natural-like designs which represent everything new in monumental work. Styles change in grave stones as well as clothes—a fact that is clearly demonstrated by the ever-changing designs put out by the Dodds Company, for which purpose a special designer is connected with the company.

During the "Exhibit Week" there are beautiful displays of work in the famous Victoria White and Milford Pink granite. Of special interest also is the large basin turned out from Egyptian Sycamore and a huge ball from the same material, both highly polished. The accuracy of the hump spheroid as turned out on the lathe demonstrates what skill is necessary in the art of stone cutting. The famous Milford pink granite is shown both polished and hammered, two distinctly different effects being obtainable by the different manner in working the stone. New markers, original both in design and construction are being featured by the Dodds company during this week.

Mike Slyby, a Slav by birth and a wealthy farmer of below Wilmington, was one of the first purchasers during "Exhibit Week," buying a handsome shaft from the company while visiting the plant Monday. As evidence of the versatility of the designer and the cutters at the plant, they will have to put Mr. Slyby's name on the stone, not only in English, but also in Slavonic, for which the purchaser supplied them with a Slavonic alphabet as a guide for the lettering.

Lettering is a peculiarly interesting feature that attracts the attention of the visitor to the plant. There are many letters of new and different design, which are so perfectly formed by the use of pneumatic hammers that they look as if they could be lifted from stone. The pneumatic hammer itself has revolutionized the lettering art, and was made the perfect formation of small letters a reality rather than a dream. The chisels used in the air hammers have to be changed every two or three minutes for they dull quickly on the hard granites.

The advance in the monumental industry is almost beyond comparison. Yesterday, in a little shop, single-handed and without the aid of machinery or modern inventions stonecutters hewed the stone roughly into semblances of the natural. Today, science has reduced stone-working to a point where there is no limit to its possibilities in delicate construction and artistry.

WEATHERMAN GIVES DRESS UP WEEK AN AUSPICIOUS START

National Dress-Up Week was given an auspicious inauguration by the weather man Saturday, and Sunday, and the week blossomed forth full of promise for its success.

Pretty weather makes to general clean-up in the spring time. There is something in the air that prompts the shaking off of the throes of winter and bestirring toward beautifying and dressing up. Thus the annual spring building, repainting, painting, papering, gardening, and general dressing-up campaign.

With Easter but a few days away, there is an imperative reason behind the activity of householders in brushing up their premises. This also serves as the impetus for personal dress-up in the way of shoes and clothing. The bright weather is but a contributing factor to this.

With the splendid weather it is favored with the Dress-Up Week should be most successful both from a standpoint of personal and property pride and of civic welfare.

MEN VOLUNTEERING WITH RELUCTANCE

Washington, April 8.—Aroused by the small number of men volunteering for the army, the war department today is mapping out a nation-wide recruiting campaign to get a 500,000 peace force. Already over 1,200 recruiting stations have been opened. Recruiting officers are being sent to each of the fifty-six major stations to start intensive campaigns in surrounding districts.

After a month's recruiting less than 5,000 have been signed up. These were obtained at recruiting stations in the various demobilization camps. Spectacular features will be introduced to get recruits. An armored train, mounted with heavy guns will be taken to a number of cities. Hundreds of soldiers who saw service in France will be scattered throughout the country to appeal.

Those volunteering for three year terms are promised either service in France or instruction in one of the trades in camps at home. One year enlistments are being accepted for home service.

PRESIDENT HAS NEARLY RECOVERED

Paris, April 8.—President Wilson will participate in the "Big Four" meeting this afternoon, when the question of responsibility for the war is considered. The morning session was devoted to discussion of procedure designed to speed up the conference.

Paris, April 8.—President Wilson has practically recovered from his serious cold and was expected to attend today's meeting of the "Big Four." He sat up yesterday evening and dined with Mrs. Wilson.

The action of the president in ordering the steamer George Washington to Brest has caused wide spread speculation. At first it was believed he intended the order as notification to his colleagues that he was through with needless delays. It was suggested in some quarters today, however, that the president really is confident the Anglo-French prediction of an "Easter peace" will come true, and that he is only preparing for a quick return to the United States in case the treaty is signed within the next two weeks.

INDIRECTLY RECEIVES WORD OF BROTHER'S DEATH IN FRANCE

Indirectly Lee Kellis, of the Mullen barber shop, received word Tuesday morning of the death of his brother, Delbert Kellis, aged 29, of Battery F., 140th Field Artillery, which occurred in France on March 12th. Although the young man has been dead for nearly a month his family have had no information from the government, the news of his death coming to the family through a letter written by Raymond Shroupe to his mother in Dayton. Shroupe and Kellis were boyhood friends and grew up together at Lynchburg at which place they both resided when they were drafted. They were placed in the same company and have been together ever since, being "buddies" both in the American camps and after they went overseas. Shroupe stated in the letter to his mother that Kellis was killed instantly and said he was one of those who ran to him after he fell. He was dead before they reached him. He failed to state in the letter how he was killed. According to the letter the young man was buried the following day.

The young man is a son of Mrs. James Kellis of Lynchburg and he is survived by two brothers, Lee Kellis of Xenia and Joseph Kellis who just returned from overseas and who is now at Camp Taylor and two sisters, Miss Thelma Kellis and Mrs. Amer Kesler of Dayton.

It seems strange circumstance that the brother who had not been at the front during the war should be killed after the war is over while the one who fought in three of the hardest battles of the war and was under fire for seven consecutive days at St. Mihiel should return to America without a scratch.

While the relatives have had no word from the government they expect that they will receive full details of the young man's death in the near future.

DIES SHORT TIME AFTER SHE ARRIVED AT THE HOSPITAL

Collapsing from weakness, Miss Mary Crawford, of the New Jasper pike, died at the McClellan Hospital about 6 o'clock Monday evening, a short time after she arrived there to seek medical advice.

For two years Miss Crawford has been ailing although she was up and about most of the time. Monday afternoon she came to this city with a neighbor and went to the hospital to consult a physician. Her condition was such that as soon as a physician saw her, he ordered her put to bed at once. She was made comfortable in her room, but before any treatment could be given her, she collapsed and passed away. Tuberculosis and the resulting weakness was the cause.

Miss Crawford was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Crawford, and she spent all her life on the farm on the New Jasper pike, where she lived with her brother, Robert D. Crawford. The brother and sister were greatly devoted to each other, and the death of Miss Crawford is a severe shock to her brother. Miss Crawford was a life-long member of the First United Presbyterian church. She was a woman of beautiful Christian characteristics of life, and very much beloved by all who knew her. "For months I suffered from extreme nervousness. My nerves were completely unstrung and I suffered distressing pains across stomach and chest. Doing light housework left me completely fatigued, and loss of sleep made nights long and tiresome. I began taking DR. MILES' NERVINE and the first night slept soundly. I continued using the medicine and soon all the unpleasant symptoms were gone."

Thousands of sufferers from nervous disorders have found relief in DR. MILES' NERVINE. This wonderful nerve soother is non-alcoholic and contains no harmful or habit-forming drug. Your druggist can tell you of its merits and effectiveness. Keep a bottle always on hand.

When the Baby Needs a Laxative---

No one knows better than the ever-watchful mother—the natural doctor of the family in all the small ills—that when the baby is out of sorts it is usually due to indigestion or constipation.

It is always well, in any of its illnesses, to look for this cause. The diet may have to be changed, but before good can result from it, the bowels must be moved.

The mother has the choice of many medicines—cathartics, purgatives, bitter-waters, pills, physics, etc. But the little body doesn't need such harsh remedies for they wrench the system and do only temporary good, so often followed by an unpleasant reaction.

A better plan is to employ a mild, gentle laxative of which only a little is required. There is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin that thousands of mothers have used successfully for baby's constipation and its accompanying ills, such as belching, wind colic, restlessness, sleeplessness, etc.

The nursing mother will also find it ideal for herself, and it is especially important that she be free from constipation.

Syrup Pepsin is guaranteed to do as promised or the druggist will refund the money. Thousands of cautious families have it in the house, secure against the little ills.

BAD NEWS FROM EUROPE.

There is no mistaking the general feeling of anxiety in this country over the situation in Europe, and the way things are going in connection with the Peace Conference.

Of course the illness of President Wilson enters into the trouble, and adds to the anxiety. The general hope is that he may soon be able to throw off the cold with which he is suffering, because so much depends on his presence at the Conference.

One dispatch speaks of the feeling on the part of M. Clemenceau, France's great old man statesman, that his colleagues in the council of four are going astray, that their inexplicable reluctance to face resolutely issues daily growing more acute is tending to jeopardize the whole work of peace, but his own determination to do his duty to his country at all costs are undoubtedly the chief causes of this expression, which the correspondent describes as tragic.

The main work of the Peace Conference is, first of all, to provide Europe with guarantees against fresh war; secondly, to make the world realize that war can never be a paying proposition. The French on these two great questions have consistently maintained the right policy. They have refused to have anything to do with the present Bolshevik regime and decline to recognize in Germany today, a heart-penitent country with whom it is possible to regard an ordinary safeguard as affording complete security. In this attitude they feel they have not received the support from their British and American friends which they had a right to expect.

The French have a special reason for knowing German mentality, and to them it is idle to talk of reducing the physical bulwarks of French security on a plea that it is unwise to encourage any spirit of revenge in the German heart. The hymn of hate which all Germany chanted with such glee is already in German hearts finding echo in a hymn of revenge.

The correspondent spoken of winds up his article as follows: "The various delegations have tended to work in watertight compartments. All have forgotten their only reason for being there is faithfully to administer the trust confided to them by their respective peoples. Consequently if the conference should break down, as it may break down, there will be a mountain of misunderstanding between the Allied and associated peoples which need never have been thrown up had the publicity of the conference been intelligently organized.

It is perhaps not too late to begin, but the eleventh hour has already struck. Unless some effort is swiftly made the best that the Allied peoples can hope for will be some hastily patched up peace that may well prove to be a mere substitute for the uncertainties of the armistice."

OPEN DIPLOMACY MUST OF NECESSITY BE SLOW.

By WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

The conference at Paris is under bombardment by cocksure critics who are correspondents in Paris and by editors resident in distant lands. The writers hold no authority for the conference, whether those representing the United States or other countries. But it is clear that in such criticisms fair weight is not given to the very great difficulties and the many complications of the situation. The fluid character of conditions in the countries of the Central Powers leads all to press for a speedy peace treaty that shall stabilize them. But this very fluidity adds to the complexity of the problem and delays its solution. The Allies are embarrassed by the unrest of their troops, who regarded the armistice as the end of the war and wish now to be released and go home. Yet armies of occupation and perhaps for further campaigns are necessary. Then between the seven powers which fought the war the peace terms are not easy to agree upon—the treatment Germany is to receive, the amount of indemnity she is to pay, the restrictions, if any, upon her competition in the world trade pending the slow industrial recovery of France and Belgium, the balancing considerations of her heavy indemnity and her opportunity for freedom in trade to enable her to pay it, the defensive frontier of France, the Italian frontier on the Adriatic shore, the boundaries of the new states, the definition of neighborhood rights, the Balkan boundaries, the autonomous units in Asia Minor, the disposition of the German colonies—all involve controversy—and some of the most acute and irritating character. Definite treaty rights and a compact partnership of nations to declare and protect them and to deal with threatening Bolshevism and quarreling countries in the sphere of the late war are badly needed.

If the conference can finish its labors by the middle of May or the first of June, however, we should congratulate ourselves.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

BAB'S INDIGNATION IS ALL DIRECTED AGAINST BLANCHE ORTON.

CHAPTER XVI.

I was terribly indignant with Neil. Nothing, I told him, could exceed the baseness of his proceedings. That he should make Blanche Orton, a widow, the repository of his business affairs, was scandalous. There were clubs, restaurants and hotels where he could take such men as we could not receive in our home. It wasn't necessary to take them—and incidentally himself—to her.

He listened for a while in silence. He had exhausted himself before I had a chance to say all that was in my mind. Then he broke out: "You refused to help me. You, even though you are angry because of Blanche's kindness to me, have not offered to do what she is doing—help me. You are too high and mighty to make yourself agreeable to men who mean success to me, money for you. You object to my having a friend who cares enough for me to make herself attractive to my business acquaintances that she helps me already more than you ever have in all the years we have been married. I recalled what she had said about getting rested so she could properly entertain and interest some one who bored her.

She did this for Neil. The full significance of this action on her part rushed over me. She was in love with Neil and had taken this way to make him care for her. She had been in love with him before Orton died, I thought bitterly, as I recalled many little things which were unnoticed at the time because I had thought of her as married, and so not free. Now they fairly glared at me. Had Neil also loved her? Did he care for her now as a woman, or only as a means to an end? That, I must know at all hazards, and at once.

Jealousy of her was the predominant feeling now. I cared nothing about the business, her connection with it. It was Blanche Orton, the fascinating widow, with whom I was occupied.

"What did you do after you finished eating?" I asked. "You certainly didn't stay at the table until one o'clock. I recall distinctly that was the hour you came in."

"No, if you feel interested, we played cards." His sarcasm nearly made me cry, but I winked the tears back and asked:

"No, poker—Haltman wouldn't play bridge. He calls it a woman's game." Unconsciously I registered that name for future use. "Haltman."

"Did you play for high stakes?" "Fairly high."

"Can't you tell me things without my having to pry everything out of you?"

"And so deny you the great pleasure you seem to find in questioning me? I would not be so cruel."

I rushed from the room at this answer, and threw myself upon the bed, sobbing and crying bitterly. I wanted him to tell me as about that dinner, and while he had not refused to answer my questions, he HAD refused to talk about it or to satisfy my curiosity in any way.

He had gambled, too! Was that something else men had to do to get business from these common men?

I didn't believe it any more than I believed it was necessary that they should be entertained in our home.

"I suppose she was all dressed up in some of her queer gowns" I said to myself when I grew more calm. "They are only intended to make men stare, anyway!"

I realized, long after, that all my indignation that day was directed toward Blanche Orton, instead of toward Neil. What right had she to even allow him to make her home a business rendezvous? How dared she invite him and his business friends to dinner and slight me, his wife? Not that I wanted to go if those horrible men were there; but it was her place to give me the chance to refuse, if she asked my husband.

That she knew I had refused to entertain men of Haltman's stamp and had offered to help Neil by having them at her home, would have angered me still further had I known it.

Tomorrow—Neil Refuses to Tell Bab Where He Is Going.

VICTIM OF SURPRISE PARTY MEETS GUESTS ON WAY UP TOWN

The surprise which the members of the Eastern Star planned in honor of Mrs. Howard Norris, Saturday night, almost failed in its purpose, since the guest of honor, on her way up street, met the surprise party on its way to her home.

She returned with them, and the evening was all the more jolly because of the double surprise. There were nearly forty in the party, and they presented Mrs. Norris a birthday cake made of popcorn, and topped with candles, representing the years of her age.

She was also given a silver Eastern Star spoon. The guests brought a delicious supper and it was served while the birthday cake occupied a place of honor in the center of the table.

Mrs. Norris is chaplain of the Chapter.

Juice of Lemons! How to Make Skin White and Beautiful

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime. Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidness, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. Sayre & Hemphill and all other druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

MISS KENDALL DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Miss Julia Kendall died early Tuesday in her apartment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bales on West Third street, following a long illness. For weeks her life had been despaired of.

Miss Kendall was a native of Greene county, having been born near Cedarville. She was a daughter of Joseph Kendall and Nancy McMillan Kendall, who died many years ago. Her family was widely connected in Greene county, but the nearest relatives living here are Mrs. C. H. Kyle, D. M. Stewart of this city, and Daniel Dallas who are first cousins of the decedent.

For many years Miss Kendall made her home with her brother, the late Rev. John Kendall, at Tarentum, Penn., after his death three years ago, she went to Cedarville to live, and last August came to Xenia.

She was a member of the Reformed Presbyterian church at Cedarville. Arrangements for her funeral will be announced later.

ALMOST DIED FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Campbell lost 66 pounds. Regained it, and tells how he got well.

"Before I started taking Milks Emulsion, the doctor told me it wasn't any use, for I was going to die. But if you could see me now, you wouldn't think that there had ever been anything the matter with me. I was in bed, flat on my back, when I commenced taking Milks Emulsion. I had lost 66 pounds. I have regained my health and strength. I don't look like the same man I did three years ago. I wish you could see what it has done for me and my family."—W. Z. Campbell, Carey, Ohio.

Thousands of people who "had to be careful with their diet" or "had to use digestives" have found Milks Emulsion the one thing they needed for quick relief and lasting benefit. It is guaranteed, hence easy to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physies. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of asthma, chronic bronchitis, and tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. JUDGE KYLE REFUSES TO GRANT DIVORCE

Judge Kyle refused, Monday morning, to grant a decree of divorce to either Thomas Albert Randall or his wife Fannie. He approved an agreement however, by which Mrs. Randall will receive from her husband through the juvenile court each week, $8 for the support of her three children.

Mrs. Randall sued for divorce, alleging cruelty on the part of her husband, and he filed a cross petition in which he alleged that his wife's mother was trying to break up the marital relation between them, and that his wife had chased him with a butcher knife and threatened him.

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Xenia People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive.

It comes and goes—keeps you guessing.

Learn the cause—then cure it.

Possibly it's weak kidneys.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

They're especially for weak or disordered kidneys.

Here's an Xenia case.

E. M. Lemin, 720 W. Second St., says: "About a year ago I was having considerable trouble with my back. It was lame and caused me a lot of suffering. When I went to lift anything, sharp twinges of pain went through my kidneys and sides. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills being good, so I began using them and I only had to take two boxes before I was cured of the attack."

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The glad days are over. You are discouraged. But even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man? A well woman? What wouldn't you give? Worse cases, perhaps, than yours, are yielding as if by magic to its subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slave to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer. 95 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if they would only confess it to a friend, family, or better, a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment? Remember all the wishes, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years' experience.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

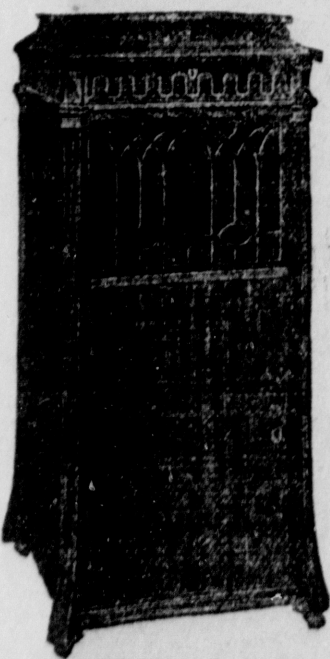

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "luggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

ASKED TO APPOINT XENIA DELEGATION

City Manager Kenyon Riddle has received an invitation from Mayor J. M. Switzer and the Chamber of Commerce of Dayton to assist in welcoming back the 148th Infantry, which will parade in Dayton some time soon, possibly Saturday.

Like invitations have been sent to other cities in this section, practically all of which have representatives in this infantry unit.

While the exact date of the celebration has not been determined, Major L. S. Connelly, who is now in Dayton making arrangements for the affair, states that a notification of 48 hours ahead will be given.

It is said that at least 1,094 Miami Valley men will compose the contingent which will parade in Dayton.

Sometimes in front just under the heart, sometimes around under the left side, under the ribs behind the heart its a sharp or acute pain, sometimes a dull heavy pain leaving a soreness, its gas on the inside generated through gaseous foods or because of systematic inability to properly assimilate the food this gas soon collecting, forms a lump that causes the pain. Maxwell—

A Car of Assured Reliability

THE reliability of every Maxwell is assured by the volume produced. One model quantity production involves the investment of millions of dollars in special machinery, plants, laboratories, etc., before a single car is produced.

Therefore, the basic design must be right—right beyond any question—before this special equipment is installed.

And after production starts absolute accuracy in every part must be assured to prevent delays, waste, hand-labor—things we can't afford.

No tools are too expensive—no precautions too elaborate—to assure this result.

This was our original plan and it has been consistently followed in producing the 300,000 Maxwells now on the roads of the world.

It is the reason why of Maxwell reliability—economy—uniformity.

A car made right to begin with saves you many a dollar even after you buy it.
